TOP 10

TRENDING BEER STYLES

AMERICAN IPA

Pale golden to reddish amber in color. Hops are the star in this style providing piney, herbal, and citrusy flavors with elevated bitterness. 5.5%-7.5% ABV

AMERICAN LAGER

A straw to gold color. Generally very clean, crisp, and highly carbonated. Very little in the way of malt or hop character. 4.1% - 5.1% ABV

AMERICAN WILD ALE

Commonly referred to as "Sour" beer. Wide range of color, most depending on any fruit additions. Generally sweeter to balance the sour. 3.5% - 7.0% ABV.

NEW ENGLAND IPA

Hazy appearance due to the use of wheat. More juicy and tropical hop flavor without the bitterness due to dry hopping. 6.3-7.5% ABV.

BELGIAN WITBIER

Unfiltered ale that is pale and cloudy in appearance due to high levels of wheat. Generally spiced with coriander and orange peel, this beer has a crisp tang and more sweet than bitter. Commonly garnished with a lemon or orange. 4.0%-7.0% ABV.

STOUT

Dark in color and roasty in flavor due to the use of toasted malt. Flavors range from bitterness of coffee to sweetness of chocolate. 5.7-8.9% ABV

GERMAN HEFEWEIZEN

"Hefe" means "with yeast". This wheat beer is unfiltered and cloudy in appearance. The yeast provides a distinct banana and clove flavor. 4.0% -7.0% ABV.

GERMAN PILSNER

Straw to pale in color with nice malt sweetness and slightly elevated hop bitterness. More of a grassy hop flavor than piney or citrusy. 4.6-5.3% ABV.

AMERICAN BROWN ALE

Amber to brown in color. Roasted malt and caramel flavors with slightly more hop bitterness than the British style brown ale. 4.2% - 8.8% ABV.

MEXICAN LAGER

Light golden to amber in color. A little more malt character with the use of Vienna malt. Generally dryer and more acidic in flavor than the American Lager. 4.0% - 5.5% ABV.
